

••• Tony Rushin •••

Tony Rushin has been engaging crowds for 20 years, presenting on IT-related topics that improve business efficiency and productivity. While technology is often perceived as bland or dry, Tony turns these subjects into relevant, compelling talks that both interest and engage his audience.

Tony began his career at IBM before moving on to help grow several small and mid-sized technology businesses and now leads Network 1's sales and marketing team. He has spoken with multiple organizations in the Atlanta area, including the Atlanta Bar Association, the Atlanta Association of Legal Administrators, the Georgia Association of Paralegals and TAG. In addition to regularly delivering insightful speeches, he is a regular contributor to the firm's Tuesday Tips.

Breakfast meetings, lunch & learns, panel discussions, training sessions and continuing education events are only a few of the avenues perfect for Tony's unique presentations. Sample topics include:

- Time-saving technology
- IT security
- Mobile solutions
- Cloud solutions

In addition to those listed, Tony is happy to craft a customized presentation around the specific interests of your group, with the topic you request and content designed to suit any audience.

Please contact Tony to discuss your group's needs.
