

... Richard Stokes ...

Richard Stokes has been presenting and speaking on healthcare IT topics for 10 years. Leading Network 1's focus on medical practices and healthcare since 2010, Richard excels in relaying complex technology concepts in easy-to-understand terms.

In addition to his presentation skills, Richard has been interviewed and quoted as a healthcare IT consultant in Physicians Practice, American Medical News and MedicalOfficeToday. He has spoken before several medical and legal associations throughout Atlanta, including the North Fulton Medical Group Management Association, the North Metro Medical Manager's Association, the Atlanta Association of Legal Administrators and PowerCore. He is also a regular contributor for his firm's blog.

Breakfast meetings, lunch & learns, panel discussions and general lectures are perfect avenues for Richard's areas of expertise. He would be happy to address your group on topics relating to healthcare IT and can create custom topics upon request. Sample topics include:

- HIPAA
- ePHI
- IT security
- Cloud technology
- Mobile technology

Contact Richard today to see how he can educate and engage the audience at your next event or meeting.